Africa is a continent. There are 54 countries in Africa. Africa has coastline along the Atlantic Ocean, Indian Ocean and Mediterranean Sea.	Nigeria is found in Western Africa. Lagos is the largest city in Nigeria. Abuja is the capital city. The River Niger runs through Nigeria. Cassava (a root vegetable) and pineapple is grown in Nigeria. Cross River Gorillas are found in rainforests of Nigeria.	Morocco is found in Northern Africa. The Sahara desert is in Northern Africa. The Atlas mountains are in Morocco (also Tunisia and Algeria). Rabat is the capital city. Morocco has a coastline along both the Atlantic and Mediterranean Sea. Most people are Muslim (99%)	Central African Republic (CAR) is found in Central Africa. It is just north of the equator. CAR has a mostly tropical climate. CAR has many natural resources including gold, diamonds and timber. It is a poor country compared to the rest of Africa. CAR is home to many wild animals including elephant, gorillas and chimpanzees.	Tanzania is found in Eastern Africa. The highest mountain in Africa is Mount Kilimanjaro. Lake Victoria is Tanzania's largest lake. The Serengeti National Park is in Tanzania. You can see 'The Big Five' here. The Masai tribe live here. They are cattle herders who are famous for their bright clothes.	South Africa is found in Southern Africa. The largest city is Cape Town. This is where you can find Table Mountain. South Africa has a coastline along both the Atlantic and Indian Oceans. It has 11 official languages including English and Afrikaans. It is one of the richest countries in Africa. It has many natural resources including platinum and gold.
